

FINISH HARVEST OF CHERRY CROP IN RECORD TIME

Adams county fruit growers and processors—finishing today the harvest of the final remnants of the cherry crop—estimated roughly at 1,200 tons for 1948 from weather-hit orchards.

That figure was about 800 tons lower than the 2,000-ton estimate of last year, and about 1,800 tons under the 4,000 tons that some growers estimate could be produced in a normal year.

Just recovering from the disastrous cherry leaf spot infestation of 1945, the cherry crop was hit this year by cold spells during the spring, with one freeze, on the morning after Easter credited with doing the most damage. Cold weather also cut down on pollination, growers said.

Short Picking Season

Most of the crop was harvested by Tuesday or Wednesday, with most orchards having a nine- or ten-day picking period. In the Fairfield-Ortanna section where the crop averaged only 20 per cent of last year, the picking season lasted only six days. One section which produced 400 tons of cherries last year secured approximately 80 tons from its trees this season.

South and east of Biglerville many of the cherries suffered from wind-chip which cut down the quality of the product and other sections also reported some damage from the winds that blasted through the orchards during the growing months.

The small crop, which resulted in one of the shortest picking seasons on record, should, with any luck at all, also prove to be one of the county's last very short crops. In one section where the cherry leaf spot took out about half of the producing trees, other trees planted a few years ago and in a few years that section should be back in full production—production that totaled 700 tons in one year prior to 1945.

In another section growers estimated that about one half of the trees are from one to six years of age, which means production there may double in four or five years.

20 To 50 Pct. Crop
Only the northwestern section of the county seemed satisfied with the quality of the cherries, with many growers reporting excellent quality. The central fruit section and southern section all reported disappointment in quality.

Estimates on the crop ranged from 20 per cent of last year in the southern section of the fruit belt through 50 per cent of last year in the central section and 33 1/3 per cent in some orchards in the northern section of the county. Estimates between orchards varied from 10 per cent to 75 per cent of last year's crop and quality estimates varied from very poor to very good.

The some 1,500 who helped harvest the cherries also found variations in their profits in picking the fruit. One grower who paid 36 cents for an eight-quart bucket reported that some of his harvest hands "made out very well" on the picking, and estimated that all found the work profitable. Another grower with some 150 pickers operating in his orchards said he feared the financial rewards were much smaller than usual.

Allies Believe USSR Acts Kill International Diplomacy

Berlin, July 16 (AP)—The Russians warned the Americans and British today that Soviet fighter planes will be training in air corridors down which the Western Allies are bringing supplies to blockaded Berlin.

The planes will operate from Russian airfields at Koethen, Dalgow and Brandenburg west and southwest of Berlin from seven a. m. to seven p. m. U. S. operations officers said they were advised.

The Russians have been posting such notices more regularly as the American and British air forces stepped up their air lift.

Both American and British officers described the increasing Russian air activity in the corridors as "apparent harassing tactics intended to make things awkward for us."

The first is the use of western power military forces to crash the land blockade.

The second is retaliatory action by the west in other parts of the world which would make it too costly for

Amendment Defeated
Delegates voted down a proposed amendment to the by-laws changing the representation of individual posts on the district council. Each post now has three delegates. The change would have fixed the number of delegates by the membership of the post, smaller posts with membership up to 500 having two delegates and three alternates, post with from 501 to 1,000 having three delegates and four alternates; 1,001 to 2,000, four delegates and five alternates; 2,001 to 3,000, five delegates and six alternates; 3,001 to 4,000, six delegates and seven alternates, and 4,001 to 7,000, seven delegates and eight alternates.

A talk on naval aviation was given by Commander Joseph A. Simcock, of the Aviation Supply Office, U. S. Navy, Philadelphia, and chairman of the state aeronautics committee of the Legion, who also showed movies of the atomic bomb experiment at Bikini and others.

The United States produced 1,400 war planes last year, compared with 56,000 produced by another nation, the speaker said. Other nations have the atomic bomb, he declared, in advocating a large air force for defense. Commander Simcock said that the

PARKING BIG CITY HEADACHE THRU PENNA.

Harrisburg, July 15 (AP)—The parking problem is one of the biggest postwar headaches in Pennsylvania's cities, the Department of Internal Affairs said today.

"Finding a place for the individual to park is the minor problem," the department said. "The major one is the economic implications which business institutions and municipalities as a whole are facing as a result of the automobile."

Solution of the problem, the department added, is retarded "by failure to appreciate its magnitude and by the diversity of opinion as to its solution."

Studies Urged
The statement was made in the department's monthly bulletin in an article written by Marielle Hobart, research assistant in the bureau of municipal affairs.

The department suggested that communities begin comprehensive surveys of their problems with the cooperation of key government, business and civic leaders.

A series of steps suggested by the department in the direction of easing the problem was listed as follows:

1. Educate the public—"It is important the public be made to realize why curb space is being limited as to time, why curb parking is to be abandoned in some sections and what methods are going to be adopted to improve the situation as a whole."

Other Measures
2. Ban ticket-fixing—"Citizens no matter what their position should not try to fix parking tickets or make trouble for the officer who is doing his duty."

3. Loading and unloading zones for trucks—"Deliveries (should) be regulated as to time so as not to interfere when traffic is at its peak."

4. Passenger bus space must be kept clear—"Improved bus service would alleviate the downtown parking problems, therefore, more consideration should be given to keeping bus zones free of illegal parkers."

5. Retaining traffic—"By-pass routes and underground passages have helped solve traffic congestion."

6. Enforcement—"Larger fines can be imposed, doubling with each offense."

MOST MINERS BACK AT WORK THIS MORNING

Pittsburgh, July 15 (AP)—Wives of most soft coal miners packed full dinner pails today — their breadwinners were back in the pits.

Both coal and steel operations stepped up again toward normal following settlement of the "captive" coal strike. The strike had idled 55,000 of the so-called "captive" miners — they're employed by steel companies.

In addition, better than 25,000 diggers in commercial pits who laid down their tools in sympathy, returned to work. They were employed in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Maryland and Virginia.

About 27,000 "captive" miners are employed in Pennsylvania and at least 22,000 of them are working today, a survey disclosed. Many went back to work on late shifts last night, others were to report today, officials of the United Mine Workers said.

The UMW officials said the only thing holding back a complete return to work were routine meetings

Poultrymen Can Cut Down Labor

On tight bluegrass-ladino clover sods poultry range shelters should not be moved, since each bare spot is a potential disease hazard and must be reseeded, County Agents Hartman and Dumire advise.

When parts of hayfields are used for ranges, moving the shelters may be advisable at times to get the hens out of the mud. But the need for moving shelters can be reduced by moving the feeders and waterers to promote wider grazing. This reduces filth and bare spots about the shelters.

being held in locals. They're held after each strike — and after John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers union has passed along the word to go back to work.

The "captive" mines went down on July 6 when most of the nation's 400,000 soft coal miners returned from their vacation under a new one-year contract which gave them a $1-a-day boost. The steel companies refused to grant the increase, saying the contract was illegal under the Taft-Hartley act because it called for a union shop.

Under a union shop miners must join the UMW within a specified period after they are hired.

OTT SUCCEEDED BY DUROCHER; SHOTTON BACK

New York, July 16 (AP)—Mel Ott resigned today as manager of the New York Giants and was succeeded by Leo Durocher, whose job as pilot of the Brooklyn Dodgers was turned over to Burt Shotton.

Shotton was pulled out of semi-retirement a year ago by Brooklyn and led the club to the pennant after Durocher was suspended by Commissioner A. B. Chandler.

Durocher had been manager of the Dodgers, the Giants' arch rival, since the start of the 1939 campaign. Ott has been boss of the Polo ground outfit since 1942. He joined the club as a player 23 years ago, when only 16.

The announcement of Durocher's resignation and Shotton's return to the Dodgers was made by President Branch Rickey at Cincinnati. He flew there from Brooklyn after conferring with Durocher last night.

Ott, one of the best liked members of the baseball fraternity, will take a brief vacation and then return to the Giants' staff in a capacity still not determined.

Take Posts Today
Horace Stoneham, president of the Giants, said Durocher would take over the club tonight in Pittsburgh. Shotton is expected to take over direction of the Dodgers at once in Cincinnati.

The text of the announcement by the Giants:
"As of today, Mel Ott has resigned as manager of the New York Giants. Leo Durocher has been appointed to succeed him and will assume command of the Giants in Pittsburgh tonight."

"The negotiations leading to the appointment of Durocher were conducted with the full consent of the Brooklyn club, and with the approval of Ford Frick, president of the National league."

"President Horace Stoneham wishes to express his deep personal regret at Ott's departure from the Polo grounds. However, he is happy to announce that today's action does not sever an association between the Giants and Mel Ott that has already extended over a quarter of a century. Upon his return from a vacation Mel will take over a place in the club's office organization."

Aboard the S. S. America, July 16 (AP)—Night life is taboo for America's Olympic athletes, heading for the London games which open July 29. A strict 10:30 p. m. curfew has been put into effect for the more than 300 Olympians aboard this big white liner. Beginning today, the various sports teams will resume training routines as far as possible.

New York, July 16 (AP)—Reine Hanover, one of the leading contenders for the $50,000 Hambletonian at Goshen, N. Y., August 11, scored an impressive victory in the second race last night at Roosevelt Raceway. The filly drew eighth post position, and after staying outside for three-eighths of a mile, driver Henry Thomas brought her in and she moved away convincingly to win, with Devotion, second, and Prim Hanover, third. Reine Hanover's sire, Spencer Scott; her dam, Shirley Hanover, and grand dam, Hanover's Bertha, all won the Hambletonian. She is owned by Lawrence Sheppard, Jr., of Hanover, Pa.

Marion, O., July 16 (AP)—Two drivers were injured, one seriously, last night when a cat frightened a horse during a harness race, causing a pileup. Banty Severns of Ohio City was thrown to the track and Marion Slane of Van Wert was tossed against the infield fence. Both were taken to City hospital, where Slane's condition was reported as serious.

Harrisburg, July 16 (AP)—Several of the nation's younger tennis stars are expected to compete here next week in the 10th annual Fort Hunter tennis tournament. Tom Mulloy, of Chicago, a member of the national junior Davis cup tennis team, heads the list of early entries for the event which gets underway Monday.

SATCHEL PAIGE PITCHES TRIBE TO 8-5 VICTORY

By RALPH RODEN (AP Sports Writer)

It's Bill Veeck's turn to laugh now. Old Satchel Paige has contributed an important win to the Cleveland Indians' pennant drive.

When Veeck, Tribe president, signed the ageless Negro pitcher to his first major league contract on July 7, some observers said it was just another of Veeck's stunts to keep the turnstiles humming in the Forest City.

But Paige, who has played for and against some of the greatest names in baseball, is demonstrating that he still has some stuff in his right arm which critics allege is anywhere from 39 to 50 years old.

Beat the A's
Paige shuffled out of the bullpen in Philadelphia's Shibe Park last night in the second game of a twilight-night doubleheader against the second place Athletics and gained credit for an 8-5 Cleveland victory.

The triumph enabled the Indians, who won the first game, 6-1, behind the four-hit pitching of Steve Gromek, to increase their first-place margin over the Athletics to two-and-one-half games.

The twin setbacks cut the A's margin over the third-place New York Yankees to one percentage point as the world champions beat the St. Louis Browns, 4-2, in a night tilt at New York.

Red Sox Take Pair

The up and coming Boston Red Sox took a day-night doubleheader from the Detroit Tigers, 13-3 and 3-1, at Boston. Jack Kramer coasted to his eighth straight victory in the day affair.

At Washington, Rae Scarborough hurled the Senators to a 4-1 seven-hit conquest over the last-place Chicago White Sox.

The Boston Braves pulled six games ahead of the runner-up Pittsburgh Pirates in the National league's pennant race, beating and tying the Chicago Cubs while the Pirates split with the New York Giants.

Dodgers Win

Johnny Sain posted his 12th victory 2 to 1 in the first game allowing seven safeties. The second game was called at the end of 13 innings because of darkness with the score tied 1-1.

The Pirates clipped the Giants, 4-3, in the first game. Ralph Kiner blasted his 24th round tripper for the Pirates in the eighth inning to tie the Cincinnati's Hank Sauer for the majors' home run leadership. Ray Poat hurled the Giants to a 19-3 triumph in the second game, scatter-

There were just two games played in the Community Softball league Thursday evening and there is still debate as to which team won one contest. It will probably be settled at a league meeting.

In the first game between the Recreation Center and Moose on the high school field each team sent in box scores showing they had won, the Moose by a 4-3 score and the Recreation Center by a 7-6 margin.

A league rule is involved which calls for first games being stopped at 7:30 unless a tie score exists. As the time for calling the game approached the score was deadlocked at 3-all and in the fifth the Moose tallied a run to take the lead 4-3. Play continued when the teams involved in the second game were not ready to start and the Recreation Center came up with four runs in the last of the sixth to take a 7-6 decision.

The State Highway tallied seven runs in the first inning and then went on to win an easy 17-5 decision over the VFW in the nightcap on the high school field. The VFW was forced to play the game with but eight men when it was unable to put a full team on the field.

Philadelphia, July 16 (AP)—The election campaigns of President Truman and his running mate, Senator Alben W. Barkley, will be directed by Senator J. Howard McGrath.

McGrath was retained without opposition yesterday as chairman of the Democratic national committee at a post-convention session at which he predicted President Truman will win the November election because "his kind of courage, his kind of confidence, do not fail."

The following slate of national committee officials was named for the campaign:

McGrath of Rhode Island, national chairman; Mrs. Charles W. Tillet of North Carolina, vice-chairman; Mrs. Dorothy Vredenburg of Alabama, secretary; Joe L. Politics Is Going Zoological As Philadelphians Well Know

By HAL BOYLE

Philadelphia, July 16 (AP)—Political conventions are getting more and more animal.

Unless Hank Wallace can pull a rabbit out of his hat at the National conclave of his third party here next week, he may have difficulty in impressing the dazed citizens of the city of brotherly love.

Because the Republican and Democratic conventions have convinced them that politics is going zoological. They are getting fond of the fauna.

"Little Eva" First

It's been a refreshing course in nature study for many grownups whose only other recent contacts with the animal world have been a few prejudiced slaps at mosquitoes or breakfast interviews with the end products of absent hens.

The parade of the four-footed folk here began with the arrival of "Little Eva," who came with one trunk and a worried look to support the presidential candidacy of Senator Robert Taft.

She won many hearts and has the happy memory of shaking hands with the senator. But somebody slapped a court order on this small fugitive from a circus. And what happened to Taft left many admirers of the elephant Dewey-eyed.

The Final Touch

Then came a national convention of the sure-footed Elks, who had their political problems too—in lodge measure.

No sooner was the last weary antler out of town than the donkey serenade of the Democrats began. And a few of the delegates lived right up to the traditional stubbornness of the animal on their placards.

They plucked 8,000 red roses, white carnations, blue corn flowers and green and bronze magnolia leaves. And they fashioned them into a gigantic floral liberty bell. And beneath the bell they cooped up 43 pigeons to represent doves of peace.

The idea was that after President Truman arrived on the platform the pigeons were to be loosed and soar up like man's ancient white hope of a world free of war.

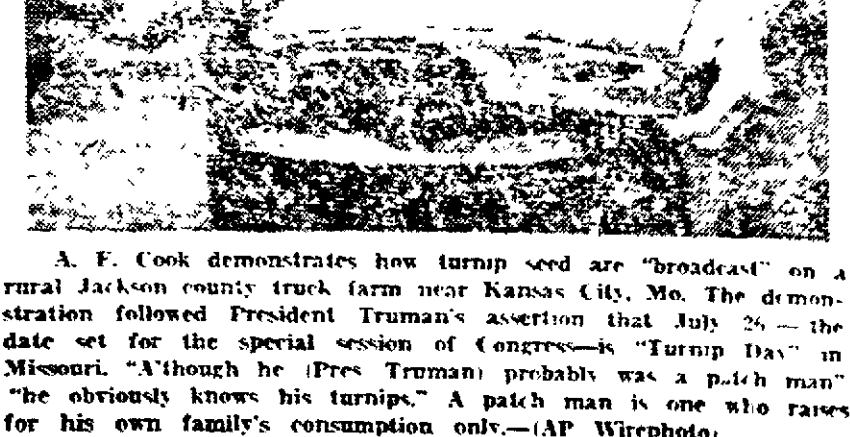

But pigeons and peace are hard to regulate. Nobody had bothered to brief the birds. When they were released it was long past midnight, well beyond their bedtime hour. They stuck drowsily in their cramped cage. For them it was too late for liberty.

Wouldn't Walk Out

"Shoo!" said Convention Chairman Sam Rayburn of Texas. "Shoo!"

Most of the pigeons apparently weren't from Mississippi or Alabama. They just wouldn't walk out. A few finally did bolt the coop—but they whirled aimlessly around, zipped through the white hair of a platform dignitary, or settled on nearby electric fans waiting for Truman to speak.

It was just a case where people for once were having more fun than pigeons.

A. F. Cook demonstrates how turnip seed are "broadcast" on a rural Jackson county truck farm near Kansas City, Mo. The demonstration followed President Truman's assertion that July 26—the date set for the special session of Congress—is "Turnip Day" in Missouri. "Although he (Pres. Truman) probably was a patch man," the obviously knows his turnips. "A patch man is one who raises for his own family's consumption only."—(AP Wirephoto)

ORDER END TO HOLY LAND WAR

Lake Success, July 16 (AP)—The Security Council last night ordered the war in Palestine stopped. It was the strongest decision in United Nations history.

The 11-nation council gave the Jews and Arabs three days to cease firing and committed itself to back up the decision with force. The delegates also ordered an unconditional cease-fire in Jerusalem, effective by tonight. The Holy City is to be demilitarized.

The final vote came on an American resolution after three days of debate. The ballot was 7 to 1 with only Syria in opposition. Russia, the Soviet Ukraine and Argentina abstained. The seven affirmative voters—just enough to approve the plan—included United States, Britain and France.

It marked a British break with the Arab world but during the closing hours of debate Sir Alexander Cadogan sought to soften the blow by explaining carefully that his government was not endorsing any suggestion that the Arabs are the aggressors. Rather, he said, Britain insists that a truce go on to enable Count Folke Bernadotte to continue Arab-Jewish negotiations.

Israel is expected to comply with the order. Arab delegates have told the council they could see no chance of the Arab countries accepting.

The French language grew from the colloquial Latin of Caesar's legions combined with Celtic, Germanic and Gallic words. It was not called "French" until the 11th Century, when it took its name from the small kingdom of France around Paris and Orleans.

The nation's shortest river is the "D." It flows 400 feet from Devils Lake into the Pacific ocean along the Oregon coast.

Dismiss Charges Against McClure

Charges of surety of the peace and disorderly conduct filed by Mrs. Lorna Whiteford, Gettysburg R. 3, against William McClure of the same address, were dismissed by Justice of the Peace John H. Baschore this morning. Costs in the surety of the peace case were placed against the defendant.

A hearing on the two charges brought by Mrs. Whiteford, was held on July 9, and decision, after hearing the testimony of both sides, was reserved. A part of the testimony concerned the "burning of crosses" on the mountain near the McClure and Whiteford home. The "crosses" turned out to be the lights being used at night on the construction of the new Lincoln highway.

Mrs. Whiteford testified that McClure showed the lights to her and her daughters and said they were a Klan manifestation and warning.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, July 16 (AP)—Four of America's most interesting golf tournaments will take place within the next six weeks and only one of them will involve any of the famous names you read about throughout the season. In order, they are the National Public Links, tournament at Atlanta, the Western Open at Buffalo, the National Junior Amateur championship at Ann Arbor, championships at Columbus, Ohio, Mich., and the National Caddie.

The Public Links tourney involves butchers, bakers, brewery truck drivers and bassinet makers—the guys who can't afford to belong to swanky clubs or who'd rather get out and rub shoulders with the mob. They play good golf (sometimes) and have a lot of fun even though they do run into occasional difficulties such as Chattanooga's Ed Lemons. "He was playing a tournament on a course infested by non-tournament players and happened to drive into a foursome just leaving the green. By the time Ed got there, his ball had become 'lost' on the putting surface."

KID STUFF

The Junior championships is just what its name implies—an event for the star golfers of the future who still are under 18 years old. So is the Caddie championship—with a scholarship at Ohio State university as the reward for the best player among the young bag toters. The Western Open also is dedicated to the caddies—the Western Golf association, really a national body now, devotes all its tournament profits to sending deserving caddies to college. For the Open there'll be $15,000 in prize money for the contesting pros, but the association also has dug up a sponsor to donate $10,000 to the caddie program too.

GOOD OLD DAYS

Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, veteran horse trainer, professes to be bewildered by the complexities that have entered the horse racing game in his time, but he admits it was even simpler in his father's day. "Pop took some horses to Saratoga one year," says Mr. Fitz. "They shipped to Albany by boat and then walked to Saratoga. Pop once walked a horse from the Eagle race track, which was near Chester, Pa., to Marcus Hook, about 15 miles; rode him in two heats and walked him back—in two days you think he got for that day's work? The purse was only $5 and pop got 25 cents."

Guatemala, July 16 (AP)—Strong earth tremors were felt here at 2:30 a.m. (Eastern Standard Time) today and people were aroused from their beds. No damage was caused in the city, and no reports had been received of damage elsewhere in the Republic.

U.N. MAY HAVE TO DEAL WITH BERLIN CRISIS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

It looks as though world opinion may have to be called upon to settle the struggle between Red Russia and the Western Democracies over Berlin—provided the veto-ridden United Nations is capable of furnishing a soundingboard to register the global viewpoint.

Moscow's blunt rejection of the American-British-French demand that she lift her food-blockade of Berlin has created one of the most amazing situations ever recorded in the history of civilized man. You would think it couldn't happen in this day and age—but it has. Just take a look at it:

In an effort to force a political concession from the democracies, the totalitarian dictatorship of the mighty Russian empire has deliberately set about to reduce the some 2,400,000 inhabitants of Western Berlin to hunger and cold and other privations. The idea is so fantastically ruthless as to be almost-unbelievable. It smacks of the dark ages.

Parachute Jumping Now

It's Berlin's location, of course, which makes such a scheme possible. The huge metropolis lies in the heart of the Soviet zone of occupation in Eastern Germany. The railways supplying the American, British and French zones of Western Berlin pass through Soviet territory and this fact inspired the Reds to cut the communications, that is to say, the lifelines.

To counter this terrible menace America and Britain have been doing a unique job of flying supplies—food, medicines, fuel—into the beleaguered capital. Naturally they haven't been able to meet requirements, but have been piling up enough supplies to provide a barrier against death.

The Bolsheviks, noting this success with concern, yesterday threatened through the official Soviet newspaper Rumsdshau in Berlin to interfere with the American-British air operations. The Russians previously had warned that they would be conducting parachute jumping practice in one of the air corridors. Commenting on this warning, General Lucius Clay, U. S. commander, remarked:

"They have every right to practice in the corridors, but it will be pretty bad for them if our planes run into them."

American quarters in Germany yesterday said they expected the Berlin crisis to worsen, in view of the Russian rejection of the demand for a lifting of the blockade. Well, now, just what would a protracted siege mean?

In the first place we must remember that Berlin is a ruined city. Huge the terrific bombing during the war. It's an astonishing thing to find millions of people trying to make

Fairfield

Fairfield.—The Scott property, sold at public auction on Saturday, was purchased by Frank Sanders for $5,400.

The Rev. Vincent Topper is spending this week at Wildwood, New Jersey.

Recent visitors at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Ira Henderson were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Henderson, Huntington; Miss Lois Henderson and Miss Mary Gordon, of Petersburg, Pa.; Miss Jane Paul, Cambridge, Mass.; Miss Mary Norton, Boston, Mass.; Miss Elizabeth Nash, Bangor, Maine; Mrs. Mabel Little, of Phoenixville; Mrs. Marcia Winn and Mrs. Joy Reed Winn, of Milton, Del. The latter three are returning home from a two months' motor trip to California.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Chronister and family, Hanover, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. William Musselman.

Sunday guests of Mrs. Carrie Young were Mr. and Mrs. William Matson and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Becker, of York.

Miss Bonnie Young, York, is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Carrie Young.

Miss Mattie Moore was hostess to the Missionary society of Zion Lutheran church Tuesday evening. The subject discussed was "The World We Want—Beginning In Our Homes." Mrs. D. F. Polley was made a life member of the organization. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Preston Baumgardner with Mrs. Baumgardner and Mrs. Fannie Hartzell as leaders.

Routine business was transacted at the regular monthly meeting of the Fairfield Community fire company, held Wednesday evening at the fire hall.

homes amidst this desolation, but there they are, delving among the shattered buildings like so many ants.

The provision of food for such a host of cave-dwellers obviously presents a staggering problem. But that isn't all. There is a scarcity of other essentials, including coal for fuel. And what does it avail a man if his belly is full while he freezes? Power for lighting and other purposes also depends on fuel.

This then is the situation of which the Bolsheviks are trying to take advantage. They figure that the Western Allies are too humanitarian to permit millions to starve or freeze—so the blockade is clamped on.

The immediate object of the Communists probably is to force the Western Allies out of Berlin or compel them to abandon their project of forming a western German government in their three zones of occupation. The ultimate Red objective undoubtedly is to gain control of all Germany and Sovietize it.

Anne Bradstreet, an Andover, Mass., housewife with eight children, was one of the earliest American poets but her first volume of verse was published in London in 1650.

ANGRY DIXIE DEMOCRATS PLAN TICKET

By REX THOMAS

Birmingham, Ala., July 16 (AP)—Angry southern Democrats went ahead today with plans to put up their own ticket in the November elections, but one of their leaders said frankly they have no chance of winning.

Others, however, were not so pessimistic. They counted on a solid southern bloc of 127 electoral votes behind a Dixie candidate for President.

A conference of "states' rights" Democrats meets here tomorrow to nominate candidates for President and Vice President in opposition to the Truman-Barkley ticket.

Mississippi's Gov. Fielding Wright termed the conference "the beginning of our electoral fight to save the south." Nomination of President Truman and adoption of his civil rights platform "make it imperative" that the south take action, he said.

It was another Mississippian, W. W. Wright (no relation to the governor), who threw cold water on the south's hopes of sending a "states' rights" ticket to the White House. Wright, the first delegate to arrive here after walking out of the national convention, said there is no chance of electing a southerner.

Aim At Truman Defeat

The main purpose of the conference, he said, is to defeat Mr. Truman and "get control of the party back in the hands of the regular Democrats."

"The Philadelphia convention was 'dominated by the big city machines who have taken temporary control of the party,' said the Jackson, Miss., attorney who is vice chairman of the recently formed States' right committee.

But, he added, "the November elections will take that control away from the big city machines." Asked if that was meant to be a forecast of defeat for Truman, the Mississippian replied "yes."

Cop With Shirt Meets Emergency

Baltimore, July 16 (AP)—Patrolman Anthony Cullota answered an emergency call with shirt in hand last night.

The emergency: An 18-year-old brunette was taking a stroll along a busy West Baltimore street in a pair of men's trousers—and nothing else.

After making quick use of the shirt, he took the girl to the station house, where she was booked on a disorderly conduct charge.

GROMYKO GOES HOME

Lake Success, July 16 (AP)—Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet delegate to the United Nations since it was established, sails for home today on the liner Gripsholm. He has been replaced here by Jakob Malik, another deputy foreign minister.

MAN PLOTTED TO MURDER MOTHER

Bloomsburg, Pa., July 16 (AP)—Jack Chester Young, 31, was being held today on a charge that he tried to hire another man to kill his mother for $5,000. State Policeman Sidney Steinberger said.

Steinberger said he and several other police officers were in an adjoining room yesterday when Young made the offer to Sheldon Yost, 28. Both Young and Yost are residents of Stillwater, Pa.

The offer, Steinberger said, involved Young's mother, Mrs. Mary R. Young, 62, of Bendertown, Pa. Young was charged specifically with solicitation to commit murder, the state policeman said.

Young first approached Yost last Wednesday, Steinberger said, and Yost told him to return later. Yost informed police, Steinberger said, and they were posted in an adjoining room when Young met Yost the second time.

Steinberger said Young gave no reason for his action and made no

Mothers With Babies Protest Milk Prices

Philadelphia, July 16 (AP)—A milk distributing company spokesman says consumers will have to pay farmers more to keep them from shipping their milk to other areas willing to pay higher prices.

A. J. Nixon, assistant vice president of Supplee-Wills-Jones, one of the largest dairies here, testified at a recent State Milk Control commission hearing yesterday that in addition to a seasonal price increase effective next October 1, farmers should be given another increase, effective August 1 to meet competition in other areas.

The increases, added to a half cent rise sought by milk distributors to cover higher costs, would, if granted, bring the retail price of milk here to 23 cents in October and 22 in August.

Meanwhile, approximately 50 men and women, some carrying babies, gathered outside the hearing room to protest any increase in milk prices.

Today's Talk

HOWARD VINCENT O'BRIEN

Last September one of the rare human beings of this earth, Howard Vincent O'Brien, closed his book, and wrote his final reflection. It was this: "Lord I am still deeply in Thy debt." Mr. O'Brien was for years a columnist for the Chicago Daily News, but he was a notable reporter all his life-time — even as a boy. In his home town he was widely and devotedly read. From the first reading of his pieces I was fascinated, and talked to him about a wider audience. But editors told me that his articles were too long, or that they appealed to too high an intelligence, which of course seemed foolish to me. O'Brien appealed to all who took pride in mere thinking. He wrote simply, with remarkable genius in the selection of words. And he had a sly humor that was delightful.

Wendell Phillips once said that "the biggest brains don't go to Congress." No; they stay at home and write the things that O'Brien wrote. All newspapers were more widely read and trusted if they used more columns like Howard Vincent O'Brien wrote. When the war was on and his son came back to him and said that he had enlisted, he wrote a literary masterpiece about it called "So Long Son." The son never came back. This brief, poignant piece of writing and William Allen White's "Mary," to my notion, are the two finest literary treasures of their kind in all literature.

No one ever met Howard Vincent O'Brien without immediately loving the man. You tied to him at once. His sincerity, his love for all human beings and living creatures, as well as his love for books and ideas, drew him to one. And how he hated shams and phonies!

After a long fight against losing sight and a racked body, and shortly before he died, he wrote this: "In my youth the problem was to make God conform to my pattern of Him. Now the problem is for me to conform to the pattern of the universe — the pattern of order, the design of immutable law which is 'God.'"

I have just read a memorial book about this remarkable man, containing a rich collection of his essays, called "All Things Considered." It is an inspiring book that will send the glow if this great man's life far into the years. The world is richer for all that he so unstintingly gave to his fellow creatures.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Right to Disagree."

NEW DISORDERS ERUPT IN ITALY AS STRIKE ENDS

Rome, July 16 (AP)—Fresh disorders erupted in Italy today as a Communist-led general strike sputtered to a halt.

The Communists called off the strike after Premier Alcide De Gasperi's government said it would use force to break the "insurrection."

The official end of the walkout at noon (5 a. m. EST) came amid scenes of wild tumult in the Chamber of Deputies where Christian Democrats and Communists engaged in fist fights. There was repeated in miniature the strike-bred disorders which had swept the country for 36 hours.

13 Are Dead, 100 Hurt

At least 13 persons were killed and more than 100 injured in the Communist — sparked rioting. Even before the hour set by the Communist-led General Confederation of Labor (CGIL) for the end of the walkout, the strike virtually had collapsed.

A back-to-work movement began late yesterday. The CGIL knuckled under when De Gasperi's government stood firm against this most serious challenge yet to its authority.

In the last hours of the strike 16 persons were wounded, three seriously, in a gun battle in Bologna. Police used their guns on strikers after they were fired on from the windows of the Chamber of Labor office there.

Put Down Rioting

Disorders also occurred in Milan and Palermo as die-hards strove to enforce the walkout right up to the noon hour. Authorities regained control of Genoa, one of the major trouble spots.

Police and troops moved vigorously in putting down rioting, arresting strikers who resisted them. This was in line with the get-tough policy outlined by Interior Minister Mario Scelba and De Gasperi.

The strike followed an attempt two days ago on the life of Communist leader Palmiro Togliatti.

A physicians' bulletin said Togliatti had passed a "rather agitated night" and that his general condition was more depressed. "Bronchopneumonia congestion" developed at the base of the lungs, the bulletin noted.

Youth, 16, Held In Double Fatality

Middleburg, Pa., July 16 (AP)—A 16-year-old York county youth was ordered to appear before juvenile court in connection with a two-car crash near Selmsgrove June 20 which took two lives.

District Attorney Horace Vought announced the action yesterday after completing a study of testimony taken at a coroner's inquest into the accident.

The youth, Thomas A. Neff, was released in the custody of his parents pending his appearance before Snyder county juvenile court. Vought said the case probably would be heard some time in August.

A coroner's jury investigating the by Thomas Neff was at fault in the crash found that "The car driven by Thomas Neff was at fault" in the accident. The two victims were Janet Neff, 16, of York, and Mrs. A. L. Menges, 78, of Menges Mills.

Harrisburg Crowns Soap Box Derby King

Harrisburg, July 16 (AP)—Thirteen-year-old Paul Whitmer, of Hershey, is the new Harrisburg Soap Box Derby king.

The young driver outclassed a field of 84 contestants here yesterday at the 11th annual Harrisburg Soap Box Derby.

His victory gives him the right to represent the Harrisburg district at the national derby in Akron, O., August 15.

Class B winner and runner up in the finals yesterday was James K. Kabrick, of Chambersburg. Witmer outdistanced Kabrick by two lengths.

TO HONOR PHILLIPS

St. Marys, Pa., July 16 (AP)—Pennsylvania sportsmen will gather near here August 1 to honor John M. Phillips, 87-year-old Pittsburgh conservationist who helped set aside 837,417 acres of state game lands. A memorial plaque will be dedicated by Gov. James Duff in Elk county near Glen Hazel where the state's first game lands were acquired in 1920.

BOY DROWNS

Philadelphia, July 16 (AP)—A nine-year-old boy was drowned when he slipped from a ramp at the end of a pier while attempting to dip a paper cup of water from the Delaware river. The tragedy which claimed the life of Harry Schrandt of Philadelphia yesterday occurred only three blocks from his home while his younger brother and a playmate looked on horrified.

Dr. Kriner Named New College Prexy

Harrisburg, July 16 (AP)—Gov. James H. Duff announced the appointment of Dr. Harry L. Kriner, of Altoona, as the new president of Shippensburg State Teachers' college.

Dr. Kriner will fill the vacancy created by the recent resignation of Dr. Levi Gilbert, also an Altoona man. Dr. Gilbert left because of what he termed "administrative" difficulties.

Dr. Kriner, who is now superintendent of schools at Altoona, will receive a salary of $6,500 a year plus maintenance in his new post.

He was assistant director of teacher education and certification in the Department of Public Instruction after previously serving as acting principal and dean of instruction at California State Teachers' college.

Around The Town

With the concrete placed by Leo McDermitt's workers on one half of the first block of East Middle street looking so smooth and level, Don Stallsmith is suggesting the firemen hold their block party on the new surface.

Watching these school jointures start has been a study in human psychology — nearly all of them started off at the first meeting with everyone on his guard and just a little suspicious of what the other fellow was trying to do — now the boards work together in great harmony and everyone realizes that everyone else is also doing his best to do a good job.

Countians had best start thinking about whether they would prefer each joint school district to merge and have a superintendent of its own, thus doing away with the county superintendent's office — or whether it would be better to put all schools in the county under one superintendent and one school board. They'll be hearing a lot about the two propositions in the future and the next legislature will have a lot of worries over the problem.

When before has the school system in the county been so radically changed as it has in the past year? The answer of course is a little over a hundred years ago when the county changed over to public schools, after much arguing, soul searching and statements that public schools would be the ruination of the county.

Another item that the next state legislature will bring up, in all probability is the matter of assessors, and Adams county assessment system will be fuel one way or another for the argument. It seems some assessors have done good jobs — some bad. The suggestion that the county have a few assessors with full time jobs do the work seems to be spreading. At present each township and borough ward has its own assessor. State men have studied Adams county's property sales and assessments as part of the study, being made concerning whether the present state-wide system of assessments is working out.

FIRM ASKS MORE FACTS IN SUIT FOR DAMAGES

Harrisburg, July 16 (AP)—A Green-castle firm asked the government to provide more details in its $2,565,259 suit against the firm for damages caused by a warehouse fire.

The request was made by counsel for A. R. Warner and Son at federal district court hearing here yesterday before Judge Albert L. Watson.

The counsel, Edward Strite, of Chambersburg, argued that the government failed to show specifically in its suit how the company could be charged with negligence in the Franklin county fire on March 8, 1945.

The blaze destroyed lard, evaporated milk machines and other supplies stored in the Warner-owned warehouse by the U. S. Commodity Credit Corp. and the U. S. Maritime Commission.

Manufacturer Fined

Thomas Wood, Jr., assistant U. S. attorney, insisted that the details in the suit telling of negligence in the fire were sufficient. The remaining information, he said, would be brought out in the trial. Judge Watson withheld any action.

In another case yesterday, Charles J. Guzy, 65, retired Wilkes-Barre manufacturer, was fined $1,000 after he pleaded no contest to a charge of income tax evasion.

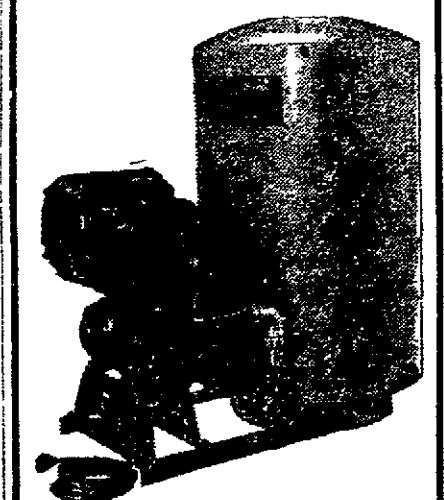

Guzy later presented the government with a certified check for $117,000. Judge Watson said that approximately $80,000 of the total was the tax evasion penalty amount.

Judge Watson approved an out-of-court settlement of a suit brought by two York tenants against a tie-in sales of furniture with apartment rentals.

The defendants were listed as Harry Perez, his wife, Josephine and Jerry Adolph. The Perez couple own a furniture store at York with two apartments above. Adolph manages the store.

Edith Urey and Monroe and Libby Hanish charged in their suit against the trio that they, as prospective tenants of the two apartments, were told that they must buy furniture if they were to be able to rent the apartments.

They asked $3,600 damages but Charles J. Ware, Harrisburg counsel for the Perez couple and Adolph, said Miss Urey agreed to settle for $437 and the Hanishes for $850.

Baltimore Livestock

CATTLE—Run was estimated at about half the volume received the corresponding day a month ago but the run was larger than either last Thursday or the same day of the previous week. Demand was broad for the light supply of fed steers and yearlings, all cows and bulls but was narrow for common and medium grades of grass steers. The run included the equivalent of 22 loads of slaughter steers and one load of stock cattle with the balance made up largely of sows and bulls.

Few fed steers and yearlings on offer with high-medium and good grassers and shortfed steers mostly steady. Spots 25c higher early on the fed cattle. Common and medium steady to 50c lower prices. A few small lots of high-grade and choice steers and yearlings $34-37; most high-medium to average-good grades including grassers $32.50-33.50. Common and medium grassers and shortfeds $25-32.

Heifers almost too scarce to establish a market. The supply consisted mainly of odd head and small lot shipments common to good $21-22.50; cutters to $15-20. A strong, to 50c higher basis compared with yesterday or largely 50c to $1 higher than Monday. Good cows $23.50 to $25. Bulk of common and medium $21.50-23.50; canners and cutters $16-19. Few meaty cutters $10-12 and shelly canners $14.

Selling level for bulls very similar to cows. Good beef bulls $27.50-28.50; medium grade $24-27. Most $19-25.50 down. Common and medium sausage bulls $21.50-24. There were not enough stocker and feeder steers on offer for a complete comparison of prices. Quotations remained nominal unchanged. One load of common and medium around 700 pound stocker steers $23.

STILL HOPE FOR LIBRARY BILL

With the President issuing a call for a special session of the 80th Congress to start July 26, there is a possibility that the Library Demonstration bill, HR 2465, may be passed then, John H. Knickerbocker, of the local committee sponsoring the bill, said today.

The bill passed the Senate unanimously and had passed the House sub-committee six to one before the Congress adjourned. It was thought then that the bill was doomed and would have to be brought up again at the 81st Congress. However the special session will provide an opportunity for the full committee on education and the house to consider the matter during the current Congress. If they pass it and it is signed by the President, the Library Demonstration bill can become law this year.

A number of local organizations and individuals had previously written Congress urging its passage. They were reminded today that Congressman Chester Gross had asked in May concerning local interest in the bill and were urged to write Congressman Gross to inform him of their opinion on the bill.

Interstate League

(By The Associated Press) A double win over the Hagerstown Owls last night carried the Allentown Cardinals to within one game of the pace setting Wilmington Blue Rocks in the Interstate league. Allentown blasted out a 10-6 verdict in the first game of last night's twin bill and took the nightcap 5-3.

Wilmington, meanwhile, turned back the Harrisburg Senators 9-2 behind the five hit attacks of Stan Holmgren. $25,000 bonus property of the Philadelphia Phillies. Holmgren's five base blows, added to 14 others by his teammates, included a homer, three two baggers and a single.

Gus Hallbourg turned in a three-hit pitching performance as the Lancaster Red Roses defeated York 3-2. In the remaining game last night the Sunbury Reds defeated the third place Trenton Giants 6-3.

BIG FUNERAL PROCESSION FOR PERSHING

Washington, July 16 (AP) — A vast military funeral procession is planned for general of the armies John J. Pershing.

Tentative plans call for an escort of thousands of infantry and armored cavalry troops, navy blue-jackets, marines and air force personnel. In addition, there is to be a farewell salute by air force planes over the grave of the 87-year-old war hero, who died early yesterday at Walter Reed hospital after 10 years of steadily failing health.

President Truman and the full cabinet are expected to attend the graveside ceremonies on Monday in Arlington National cemetery. With them will be the generals and admirals who compose the nation's military high command.

Including among the crack army troops from Washington and posts in this area will be the ceremonial unit from nearby Fort Myer Va., and 250 men from the 3rd Mechanized Cavalry at Fort Meade, Md.

At Fort Worth, Texas, the commander of Carswell air force base alerted a negro staff sergeant of whom Pershing once said: "I want no one but Charley Wycoff to sound taps for me."

Great Military Tribute

Pershing chose his own burial plot in Arlington, in an area where men who served with him in France are interred. The grave site is on a slope below the tomb of the unknown soldier—who died in action during World War I, while under the General's command.

By order of President Truman, "as a mark of respect to General Pershing's memory," flags will fly at half-mast at all public buildings, forts, military posts, naval stations and aboard United States Navy ships until after the funeral.

The almost unprecedented military tribute—possibly the greatest since burial of the unknown soldier—will start Sunday morning.

Army troops will escort the General's body from Walter Reed hospital, in northwest Washington, to the Capitol. Until Monday morning he will lie in state in the high, vaulted Rotunda of the grey old building, resting on a historic catafalque which previously had borne the remains of Abraham Lincoln and the unknown soldier.

Hotelmen Urging 10-Cent Gas Tax

Harrisburg, July 16 (AP) — The Pennsylvania Hotels Association today advocated a state tax of 10 cents a gallon on gasoline, an increase of six cents, and adoption of a "master plan" to development of free highways.

The association, which opposed extension of the Pennsylvania turnpike east from Carlisle to Philadelphia and west from Irwin to the Ohio state line, stated its position in its official publication the Hotel Herald.

Ray F. Smock, state secretary of highways, with approval of Governor James H. Duff, suggested in a recent address an increase of two cents a gallon in the state gasoline tax would be necessary to continue the Commonwealth's highway construction program. The question will be placed before the 1949 session of the legislature.

Work is expected to be started shortly on the eastern extension of the turnpike and plans are being drawn for the western extension.

Sunday School Lesson

NAOMI, WOMAN OF FAITH By Rev. Howard R. Gold, D.D. Margaret C. Gold Ruth

Memory Selection: "Thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God." Ruth 1:16.

The lesson is built around the life and character of Naomi who was the mother-in-law of Ruth and the one to whom Ruth said, "Entreat me not to leave thee, or to return from following after thee; for whither thou goest, I will go." Usually the interest in this lovely short story centers around the unselfish devotion of the younger woman. Here we study some of the dominant characteristics of Naomi and how she accepted her lot with quiet courage and faith.

Dog Days Are Here; State Isn't Worried

Harrisburg, July 16 (AP) — "Dog Days" are here — but the state's agriculture department says there's nothing to worry about.

The age-old belief that this is the season "when dogs are supposed to be especially liable to go mad" is not borne out in the records of the State Bureau of Animal Industry. The Bureau says its files show that in four of the past five years more cases of rabies in dogs have been recorded in the months of April, May and June than in the "Dog Days" of July and August.

"Dog Days," so named because of the conjunction of the rising of Sirius, the dog star, with the rising of the sun, cover a period of four to six weeks beginning in the first weeks of July.

Known cases of rabies have been relatively few this year with only 22 cases in the first six months as compared with 188 in the first half of 1947. The largest monthly total was 21 in May.

age and faith. Naomi played no great part in history as did Esther. She was a humble village woman whose great faith pervaded her home and gained for her the undying affection and loyalty of Ruth.

A Pioneer Many years before during a famine in Judah Naomi, her husband Elimelech and their two sons left their native town of Bethlehem and journeyed to Moab, east of the Dead Sea where they settled. This was likely a long and dangerous trip for a woman and no doubt Naomi endured hardships just as the women who went in the covered wagons to settle our western prairies. In time both sons married Moabite women. Naomi's husband died and later both sons so that the three widows remained alone and sorrowing. Thinking longingly of her home in Judea, Naomi decided to return and prepared to leave her daughters-in-law, Orpah and Ruth. She advised them to return to their homes also but Ruth could not bear to leave Naomi. What a joy and comfort Ruth must have been to the older woman! Together they journeyed back.

This all occurred back in the turbulent time of the judges about the middle of the 12th century, B.C. The book of Ruth was likely written much later and some believe its purpose was to give the Jews a truer and wider understanding of God's care for all people. The Jews were too exclusive but this book shows a spirit of kindness and forbearance with people of other lands and races. Naomi would have been a sympathetic missionary leader because she understood the feeling of an alien people.

Going Home Naturally these two strange women attracted considerable attention when they arrived in Bethlehem. They had no escort and were dressed in foreign clothes. Sensing their pity and curiosity Naomi told them to call her "Mara" which means "bitter." But Naomi had once adapted herself to the Moabites and she knew well how to conduct herself in a dignified way. Soon she and Ruth won the respect of both townsfolk and farmers Ruth gleaned in the harvest fields of Boaz, a kinsman and that is how they managed to live. Ruth was faithful to her vow, "Thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God."

Conscious of her responsibility toward Ruth and with deep concern for her future, the elder widow planned a way that Boaz would meet Ruth. She felt her daughter-in-law deserved to have another husband and raise a family. Naomi knew Boaz could provide well for her dear companion even though it might mean loneliness for her.

The new life became easier and more pleasant and both women seemed content. Naomi did not permit her sorrow to absorb her and she interested herself in arranging a suitable marriage for Ruth. It was quite the accepted and honorable thing to do for in Eastern lands marriages are always arranged by parents. A British writer has said of Naomi, "She is a fine and noble pattern of a middle-aged woman who has been sweetened and ennobled by sorrow."

Fulfillment

In the beauty of Naomi's character several things stand out: Kindness, consideration, reverence, loving wisdom. Through sorrow and readjustment to a new life she had remained sincere—faithful to God and her family. The domestic scene portrayed is not dull. It represents the greatest satisfaction in life—to see one's children happily married and leading useful lives.

The fulfillment of Naomi's hopes came when the good farmer Boaz married Ruth and they had a little son Obed. "And Naomi took the child, and laid it in her bosom, and became nurse unto it." The wee infant gave her much happiness and she likely influenced his young life for Obed was the grandfather of David. This was supposed to be the beginning of the Messianic line for Jesus Christ was born "of the line of David." So we leave Naomi in that peaceful Bethlehem home.

Republicans Prepare To Block Political Benefits To Democrats In Congress

ASSAIL TRUMAN FOR HIS CALL ON EXTRA SESSION

Washington, July 16 (AP)—Republicans whetted their legislative knives today to chop down any political crops which may sprout from President Truman's "turnip day" recall of the 80th Congress.

Vigorously they assailed Mr. Truman's summons to return July 26 as "cheap politics" but they also dropped broad hints that if there is any vote harvest to be gathered in the special session it will not be a one-party reaping.

One member of the House Republican steering committee, who refused to allow use of his name, suggested that GOP lawmakers may open some investigations of the Democratic administration.

Chorus of Opposition
Just what might be investigated he did not say. But he told reporters one or two good investigations could provide a lot of campaign ammunition for the Republican party.

Mr. Truman issued his summons yesterday for the return of what he has called about the "worst Congress" in history. Acting just 12 hours after winning the Democratic nomination in a north-south splintered convention, the President said "an extraordinary occasion requires" the special session.

From all sections of the country GOP Senate and House members sounded a mounting chorus of opposition to the special session. To some, resuming the lawmaking chores which they considered finished June 20 will mean simply a halt to their vacations. But to more it will mean a halt in campaigns for November re-election.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey was silent on the special session call but it got a boost from Henry A. Wallace, the third party Presidential candidate. Wallace said in a statement issued in New York.

"The new party welcomes the call for a special session of Congress. When Congress meets it will give the country a review of what bipartisan campaign promises mean. We shall see each party trying to maneuver the other so as to snare votes but at the same time passing no bills that might really aid the people."

No one was ready to predict how long the special session might last. It could go on for several months. The President said the program he wants could be put through in 15 days if the legislators cooperated.

Summary of Facts
Here, in brief, is the program he outlined in his acceptance speech, what the platforms say on each, and what Congress did in the last session:

1. Halt rising prices. Democratic platform supports President's anti-inflation program, including standby power to impose price and wage controls. Republican plank promises to attack "basic causes" by cutting government spending, reducing public debt, and other measures. The Republican Congress passed a measure featuring voluntary methods to keep prices down.

2. Housing. Democrats pledge "comprehensive" legislation, including slum-clearance and low-rent projects built with federal funds through local agencies. Republicans pledge federal aid to states for the same purpose, but only where need cannot be met by private capital and state agencies. Congress passed a bill excluding these features.

3. Aid to education. Democrats advocate federal aid administered by states with an appropriation of $300,000,000 to start it. Republicans favor equality of educational opportunity for all and promotion of educational facilities. Aid bill passed Senate, but died in House.

Civil Rights Issue
4. National health program. Democratic plank favors such a program for expanded medical research, medical education, and hospitals and clinics. Republicans urge strengthening of federal-state programs to provide more adequate hospital facilities. Never reached floor at last session.

5. Civil rights. Democratic platform calls on Congress to guarantee racial minorities full and equal political participation, equal opportunity of employment, security and person, equal treatment in service and defense of nation. Republicans favor anti-lynching and anti-poll tax measures, such legislation as may be necessary to maintain right of equal work opportunity, and oppose racial segregation in armed services. No action at last session.

6. Increased minimum wage. Democrats favor increase from 40 to 75 cents an hour. No mention in Republican platform. No action in Congress.

Social Security

7. Social Security. Democrats fa-

SECURITIES REGISTERED

Harrisburg, July 16 (AP)—The Public Utility Commission today registered two securities certificates of the New Castle water company in the issuance of stock totaling $1,471,000. The company serves water to the city of New Castle, Lawrence county. Proceeds from the stock sales will be used to retire bonded indebtedness and finance new construction.

erage to workers not now included. Republicans favor extending coverage and increasing benefits to a "more realistic level." Congress passed over veto bill increasing benefits to blind persons and dependent children, but barred old age pensions to 750,000 semi-independent workers the President wanted covered. Truman wants about 20,000,000 added to benefit rolls.

8. Public power and cheap electricity. Democrats favor development and distribution of hydro-electric power over publicly-owned transmission lines, with user preference going to public agencies and rural electrification cooperatives. Republicans favor progressive development of water resources for navigation, flood control and power. No power legislation at last session.

9. Displaced persons. No mention in platforms, but President in acceptance speech asked for "adequate and decent" law. Congress passed a bill allowing 205,000 European refugees to enter this country in the next two years. Mr. Truman called it "anti-semitic, anti-Catholic" because of certain immigration qualifications.

AUTO WORKERS TO STRIKE

Philadelphia, July 16 (AP)—Local 131, United Auto Workers (CIO) authorized a strike of its 1,210 members at the Autocar company plant in suburban Ardmore to support union demands for a cost of living wage increase. The union's members voted yesterday 897 to 166 in favor of the strike. The other members did not vote.

TOP GOLFERS AT PITTSBURGH

Pittsburgh, July 16 (AP) — Par was expected to take another beating today as some of the nation's top golfers began the second round of the $16,500 Dapper Dan invitational golf tournament.

Big Vic Ghezzi of Englewood, N. J., gave an indication of things to come yesterday as he blasted par by six strokes to take a three stroke lead in the first 18 holes. Has 66 shaved by two strokes the record for the recently lengthened 6,850 yard Alcoma layout.

Twenty-one of the 139 contestants turned in cards of par 72 or better. Fifteen of the 21 were under regulation figures.

Ghezzi was almost perfection itself as he hit thread-needle irons to the greens and gave a brilliant exhibition of putting, his longest tap was a 25-footer he had an outgoing five under par 31 and came home in a one-under-par 35.

It was expected a score of 150 would be needed by the 60 low

Eastern League

(By The Associated Press)
Packy Rogers, of the Elmira Pioneers long has been considered a Leo Durocher type of manager, but last night he went "the lip" two better.

Durocher, who counts a day lost when he doesn't use at least 15 players, never has been able to work all his players into one game and never has had one of his players substituting for an umpire.

Rogers achieved both of these goals in an Eastern league game last night at Elmira. But these extreme measures didn't help the Pioneers. They suffered an 11-2 trouncing at the hands of the Wilkes-Barre Barons.

The Albany Senators lost ground by taking a double beating from the Utica Blue Sox, 14-9 and 6-2 at Albany, the league-leading Scranton Miners bowed to Williamsport, 2-1, and the Hartford Chiefs turned back the Binghamton Triplets, 3-2, in 11 innings at Binghamton.

Inglewood, Calif., July 16 (AP)—The Hollywood Turf club stages the ninth running of the $100,000 Hollywood Gold Cup Handicap tomorrow and it appears that one of the smallest fields in its history will answer the bugle for the mile and one-quarter special. Entries were awaited today, but the probable field shaped up like this: On Trust, Stepfather, Autocrat, Shannon II, Capt. Flagg, Challenging, Oihaverry, Pay Me, and Prevaricator.

ASSESS CHANCE FOR VICTORY OF PRES. TRUMAN

Philadelphia, July 16 (AP)—One thing sticks in your mind, now that the Democratic convention is over.

It's this: What chance do the Democrats have of winning the presidency and capturing control of Congress in the November elections?

The delegates to the convention show that they have a fight on their hands to beat the Republicans in November.

The great string of Democratic victories, which started in 1932, broke in 1946 when the Republicans won control of Congress.

Tide Turned In 1946
The tide turned against the Democrats then: There have been no elections since, so there's nothing to show how the tide is running—or how swiftly.

With President Roosevelt dead, the Democrats have lost his political genius and vote-getting magic. His tight control on the Democratic party held it together. President Truman hasn't shown yet that he has the same grip.

That's illustrated by the anger and walkout of southern delegates on the convention floor over the civil rights issue. Mr. Truman made it an issue when he laid down his civil rights program last February.

Splits Don't Help
Before the convention started here Monday, some of the biggest Democratic politicians didn't want Mr. Truman re-nominated.

That kind of feeling by Democrats about the leader of their party—since the voting public has read of how they felt—isn't a vote-puller.

The splits and divided thinking within the party—such as over civil rights—doesn't help roll up votes either.

In winning election to the presidency four times, Mr. Roosevelt's victories were so large over the country generally that he could have won without the votes of the southern states.

No Sweep Predicted
But this year no one is predicting any such kind of sweep for the Democratic ticket of Mr. Truman and Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky.

In a close contest with the Republicans, the votes of those southern states might mean the difference between victory and defeat for Mr. Truman.

So he seems likely to suffer if some of the southern states refuse to support him and throw their electoral votes to some one else, although not necessarily to a Republican.

So far all that's been said here has been on the gloomy side of the Democrats' chances. But a big change might happen between now and election day in November.

Had Them Shouting
For one thing, Mr. Truman accepted the nomination Wednesday with a speech that brought the delegates shouting to their feet. Until then, except for their outbursts of anger over civil rights, the delegates had been a dreary looking crew.

If he can continue to spark the politicians of his party, he may be able to pump real hope and vote-getting energy into them.

He predicted victory for the Democrats and right on the spot opened his campaign with a move that is intended to put the Republicans over a barrel.

That's when he announced he is calling Congress back into special session—it's a Republican-controlled Congress—to pass laws he thinks are needed, like stopping inflation and providing housing.

Pittsburgh, July 16 (AP)—Edward G. Rieker of New York is the new president of the National Association of Rainbow Division veterans. Rieker was elected Wednesday at the final session of the 30th annual three-day reunion of the association. The organization is composed of members of the army's famed 42nd Division.

SECOND MAN IS HELD IN MURDER

Philadelphia, July 16 (AP)—A second man taken into custody by police in connection with the slaying of a 22-year-old Vineland, N. J., egg and cheese dealer, was held for a hearing today in central police court.

Capt. James Kelly, head of the Homicide squad, identified the man as Peter Cassella, 40, and said he was a close friend of Anthony Minerva, Jr., who was killed by a bullet on a Philadelphia street as he was returning home after the Beau Jack-Williams fight here last Monday.

Cassella was taken into custody shortly after Michael Maggio, 59, a South Philadelphia cheese merchant, was held in $1,500 bail by Magistrate John L. Coyle for a further hearing next Thursday.

During Maggio's hearing yesterday, Anthony Minerva, Sr., father of the slain man, pointed an accusing finger at Maggio and shouted "He had my son killed. He is a murderer."

Maggio, who remained impassive during the outburst, told Magistrate Coyle "this whole thing is ridiculous."

Minerva's body was discovered after his car crashed into an electric power pole and he was found slumped over the steering wheel with a bullet wound in the head.

Harrisburg, July 16 (AP)—Pennsylvania egg production fell off 14 per cent during June, but it was still enough to set a new all-time state record for the month, the State Department of Agriculture, announced today. A seasonal slump was the reason given for the drop from the May output of 307,000,000 eggs to 263,000,000 in June.

State College, Pa., July 15 (AP)—

Pennsylvania's stepped-up birth rate has created a demand of 30 million more quarts of milk a year, says Miles Horst, state agriculture secretary. Horst told a gathering of dairy field men here Wednesday there has been a jump of approximately 83,000 births in the state since 1940. Farmers have to supply about 65 million more pounds of milk a year, he said.

TRUMAN OPENS CAMPAIGN WITH TOUGH SPEECH

By JAMES MARLOW

Philadelphia, July 16 (AP)—President Truman has opened his campaign for the presidency with a sharp, tough, fighting challenge to the Republicans to stand and deliver.

He did it Thursday in his speech to the Democratic convention, accepting the presidential nomination.

Right at the end of his speech he announced that he is calling the Republican-controlled congress back into special session July 28. That means this:

1. He's going to ask Congress to pass certain laws, such as those aimed at controlling the cost of living.

2. But most of what he said he'll ask for is something which the Republicans—in their own 1948 platform—worked out here three weeks ago—also say needs to be done or studied.

Puts GOP On Spot

3. That will put the Republicans on the spot of having to deliver on their platform promises which they made in an attempt to win the elections in November.

But before looking any further into Mr. Truman's attempt to put the Republicans over a barrel, this is something to remember as the political campaigns get under way:

In his speech he very clearly outlined the Democratic party's campaign tactics in trying to win the presidency and control of Congress:

1. Claim credit for the Democratic party for all the good things Congress and the government have done since Franklin D. Roosevelt became president in 1933.

2. Attack the present Republican-controlled Congress as a do-nothing-or-do-badly-friend-of-the-rich; and blame it for the things left undone.

Sample Campaign Speech

Here's an example of what you'll be hearing about No. 1:

Mr. Truman pointed to the tremendous rise in the earnings of workers and farmers since 1932 and said both groups would be "ungrateful" if they didn't vote for his Democratic party.

Here are examples of No. 2:

A. The high cost of living and the end of OPA and price control. Mr. Truman blamed them on the present Republican Congress. In the special session he's going to ask Congress to do something about stopping inflation. (In their 1948 platform the Republicans "pledge an attack upon the basic causes of inflation.")

B. Mr. Truman blamed this Congress for failing to pass a strong Federal Housing bill to wipe out slums and provide low-cost rentals. He said he will ask the special session to act to lower housing prices.

Blame On Other Scores

This Congress, just before it quit in June, did pass a housing bill. But Mr. Truman said this is worthless. (The Republican platform says the government "can and should encourage the building of better homes at less cost" and "recommends Federal aid to the states for local slum clearance and low-rental housing programs" when private enterprise can't do the job.)

C. Mr. Truman blamed this Congress for failing to pass a health program that would provide more medical care. So, he said, he'll ask the special session to do that. (The Republican platform says the Republicans "urge" strengthening of Federal-State programs to provide more medical care.)

D. Mr. Truman blamed this Congress for not passing a law that would bring more people within the benefits of Social Security. Further, he said, Congress actually knocked 750,000 people out from under the protection of Social Security. So, he said he will ask Congress to bring more people under Social Security. (The Republican platform says the Republicans are for widening Social Security benefits.)

Civil Rights Issue

E. Federal aid to education. Mr. Truman blamed Congress for not voting such help. He had asked it to vote $300,000,000 in Federal money to give that kind of aid. So he's going to ask for Federal aid to education.

(The Republican platform plank on education says "We favor equality of educational opportunity for all and the promotion of education and educational facilities.")

F. Mr. Truman blamed Congress for not acting on the civil rights program he recommended to it last anti-lynching law, a law wiping out February. That program included an anti-lynching law, and mostly in the south. So he'll ask for action by the special session on civil rights.

(The Republican platform calls for "prompt action" for "prompt enactment" of a law to stop lynching, an end to the polltax and others.)

The victim was Mrs. Thelma Davis Smiley, who was killed Wednesday. Her 26-year-old husband, Alvin Smiley, was being questioned today by County Detective Merle Dickinson who said he expected to prefer charges against him. The official added he had "not yet decided what charge."

Dickinson said Smiley claims a rifle he had in his slowly moving auto discharged accidentally. He added that the man originally said his wife had been hit by a stray bullet but changed his story under repeated questioning.

ENGINEER DIES

Philadelphia, July 16 (AP)—Theodore Jacobson, engineering consultant and former factory manager for SKF Industries, Inc., died yesterday at his home here following a long illness. He was 64. A native of Malmö, Sweden, Jacobson had been associated with SKF since 1913. He assisted in the development of the company's Hartford, Conn., plant in 1917 and served in various other plants in Europe before becoming manager of the Philadelphia plant in 1933.

PA. EMPLOYEES WILL RECEIVE PAY INCREASE

Harrisburg, July 16 (AP)—The commonwealth's 40,000 employees will receive a cost-of-living salary increase, effective tentatively August 1.

The wage boost was announced yesterday by Gov. James H. Duff, he said, however, the amount and form of the raise is still to be determined. But it will be "a substantial" increase because the increase in the cost of living has been substantial," the governor emphasized.

He explained that "I felt in view of reports that I get of the greatly increased cost of living, we ought to take it into account of the salaries of the employees of the commonwealth."

No Cost Figures
Duff said there was "enough money available" to make the new boosts without imposing a burden on the state's financial status. He declined to estimate the cost, however.

Duff announced the boost after discussing the matter with the members of his cabinet. He said afterwards not a member objected to the action. The governor appointed a seven-man committee from his cabinet to iron out the details of the proposed wage increase—the third in three successive years.

"They will report next week and I am hopeful that we will work out a setup that will provide for the increase about August 1," Duff said. Asked about a request of the AFL-Pennsylvania Council of Public Employees for a 20 per cent boost, Duff commented:

"On My Own Initiative"
"This is being done on my own initiative. It is being done not because there is or there is not any pressure, but because I think it's ought to be done."

State employees received salary hikes ranging from five per cent for higher-paid workers to 15 per cent for those in lesser categories in both 1946 and 1947.

The state's minimum annual salary has been boosted from slightly over $1,000 in 1946 to its present $1,428. Reclassification of jobs and "other higher standards," Duff asserted, will likely increase the minimum salary once again.

Duff last week announced a five cent an hour pay raise for 12,000 day-to-day workers of the Highway department at a cost of $1,000,000 more a year.
